Bob,

- I think you have the appropriate categories/topics covered.

I like Barb Vogel's suggestion for a for sale/rent section which besides condo units could include anything - furniture, household items, etc.

Would it be feasible for owners to post items directly?

In reference to my previous email I think "Documents" should be a separate category and not included as part of "Board Activities".

Also the Fairfax link has pictures/videos of their courtyard redo. I assume there's no problem if I share those with our board?

This website will be great addition to Everglades?

Thanks for all your work - ms
